

UW Health Sciences Schools and Health Equity Circle present:

Moving Upstream on Addiction, Stress and Policies Concerning the Social Determinants of Health

A Brown Bag Discussion With

Dr. Gabor Maté

Author of In the Realm of Hungry Ghosts

Join us for a personal discussion with Gabor Maté. Based on his first-hand experiences with the social determinants of health, adverse childhood experience, and a distinguished career as a researcher and physician, Dr. Maté will discuss the effects of early experiences, drug policy and stigma in breaking the cycles of addiction and disease. Student-driven questions will focus on how profoundly the Social Determinants of Health affect the health and happiness from in utero to adulthood and what the next steps are to breaking the current cycle.

Wednesday, February 19th | 12-2 PM
South Campus Center 316

Light refreshments will be provided!

Seating is limited, please RSVP at
