Notes: III SC Notes:

- Members met together to discuss selection of top 10 nominated outstanding mentors from the Scholarship Discovery program for E21 students that will be presented at the poster session.
- It was mentioned to look at mentorship nominations in which mentors guided E21’s in more than one area i.e., meeting with students, allowing them to shadow, assisted students with their general medical school questions & concerns, and career planning.
- Dr. Simpson had a second nomination for the outstanding award due to student producing great results from his mentorship.
- Suggested to distinguish between mentors who had more support and resources, and to take that into account when selecting recipients. Want to recognize good mentors who may not have all that additional support. In addition, taking into consideration the mentors who guided students on a scientific level, and not necessarily a medical level or mentorship. Should recognize that PhDs can be good mentors too and not all mentors need to be MDs.
- Committee stated that non-Seattle based researchers that were nominated should be recognized.
- E21 Outstanding Mentor Award winners:
 - Emily Schmitt, PhD (Wyoming)(student from Spokane)
 - Tommy Wood, BM, BCh, PhD (Seattle)(student from Montana)
 - Elizabeth Lawlor, MD, PhD (Seattle)(student from Seattle)
 - Cory Simpson, MD, PhD (Seattle)(student from Montana)
 - Bonnie Lau, PhD (Seattle)(student from Spokane)
 - Namrata Singh, MD, MSCI, FACP (Seattle)(student from Spokane)

- Lauren Whiteside, MD, MS, FACEP (Seattle)(student from Spokane)
- Giana Davidson, MD, MPH and Elina Serrano, MD, MPH (Seattle)(student from Seattle)
