

2023 Medical Student Scholars Symposium

Did you complete a project during medical school that you are excited about? We invite all graduating medical students to submit an abstract of your scholarly work to be considered for the fifth annual Medical Student Scholars Symposium, Tuesday, May 23, 2023, during our in-person Transition to Residency class (9:15-10:25 am). This is a celebration to highlight projects our students have accomplished along their journey to becoming a physician. Students whose abstracts are accepted will be invited to give an 8 to 10 minute presentation of their work at the Symposium to an audience of friends, family, and faculty.

We are accepting abstracts in the following categories:

- 1. Scholarship of Discovery - Research such as basic science, clinical, and health policy.
- 2. Scholarship of Integration - Literature reviews that answered unknown questions.
- 3. Scholarship of Application - Areas include community engagement, international outreach, and quality improvement. Projects may involve implementation of a process, sustaining an intervention, or a needs assessment.
- 4. Scholarship of Teaching - Examples include design or implementation of a curriculum or research in educational methods.

Abstracts should be less than or equal to 2500 characters (excluding spaces, title, authors, mentor, mentor's department) and contain sections for an Introduction, Methods, Results, Conclusions. To submit an abstract, please email it in PDF form to somiii@uw.edu by April 7, 2023.

Abstracts will be chosen according to quality and representation of the diverse interests of our student body. We highly encourage you to apply!
