MEDICAL STUDENT ADDICTION
RESEARCH TRAINING PROGRAM

Call for First Year WWAMI Medical Students!

The MedStAR program provides 1st year WWAMI medical students with opportunities for mentored research and training in Addiction Medicine.

The program matches students with research mentors who will work together through the Independent Investigative Inquiry's Scholarship of Discovery curriculum block on projects focused on substance use and related co-morbidity. The program facilitates opportunities to present scholarly work at regional and national meetings as well as fostering ongoing mentoring. Students are provided with a supportive mentorship team including their research mentor, a clinical mentor, a research methods coach, and a writing coach.

The program accepts 6 – 8 students per year. Students receive a stipend of $5,000 for the summer, <https://sites.uw.edu/uwmedstar/>.

Funded by the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) R25DA050985
